CAYCE JONES WILL RACE DR. M. IN PLACE OF REELFOOT

Is a Speedier Horse and the Contest Will be Great One.

Both Thoroughbreds Are in Fine Fettle Today.

GREAT CROWDS LOOKED FOR.

All in readiness for the biggest race ever pulled off on the west end fair grounds tomorrow afternoon, when the M and Cayce Jones will decide the keen rivalry between them. The fact that Reelfoot will be unable to enter the race as originally intended has not lessened the interest, as it is recognized that Cayce Jones is a better horse, and will race Dr. M., the hardest race of his track experience. Great crowds are expected to be on the grounds tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock when the first heat will be started.

At a meeting of the directors this afternoon it was decided that the race would go Cayce Jones, with his owner, Guy Lee, arrived in Paducah this morning from Union City. Cayce has been in training and is in splendid shape to enter the race tomorrow. At a tryout yesterday he went at a lively clip. Dr. M. is in fine fettle, and his supporters are enthusiastic over his showing, and predict that the entire grand stand will go dippy when his speed is shown.

JUDGE PARKER HAS A VERY NARROW ESCAPE.

Maddened Negro Files into Crowd, Whizzes by His Head.

New York, June 30.—Judge Alton B. Parker's friends learned last night of his narrow escape from the bullet of an infuriated negro, who was battling with an angry mob on Madison avenue. Judge Parker had been a passenger on a car following close behind one on which the negro had quarreled with the conductor, starting a small riot. The former presidential candidate had stepped off his car and was watching the excitement when there was a pistol shot and a bullet whizzed by.

Judge Parker would not enter a complaint against the negro, saying he had not been hit and did not see the man fire the shot.

He hid in the city for several days and then slipped out. When brought to jail Williams had new clothes and jewelry, including a diamond ring. It is unknown where he obtained the jewelry.

Yale lost two men by sickness, Tucker, in Varsity eight, stroke, and Appleton, Freshman, in the eight. Colburn and Howe, are the winners. The water is as smooth as a pond, with a scorching sun. Dr. Sights' ordinance, which will be introduced in the council Monday night, requiring all house servants to show certificates of their freedom of tuberculosis and other contagious diseases, will in all probability be passed, as many members of the two boards have expressed their sympathy with the effort to prevent the spread of these diseases.

THE FISCAL COURT SETTLES ALMSHOUSE DISPUTE TODAY

T. N. Carlee the Newly Elected Superintendent to Assume Charge.

All Members of the Court Attend Busy Session.

MANY BILLS ARE ALLOWED.

The dispute over the county almshouse was settled this morning by the fiscal court, when the offer of compromise of W. A. Thompson was accepted. By the terms of the compromise, the county purchases the general equipment of the almshouse and allows Mr. Thompson's bills for the months of May and June, while Mr. Thompson agreed to discontinue his appeal, and vacate the premises. T. N. Carlee, who was elected by the fiscal court in May, will assume charge of the county institution tomorrow.

The almshouse committee made the recommendation that the question be compromised, as the best way out of the trouble both for the county and Mr. Thompson. By the compromise Mr. Thompson sold the stove and kitchen utensils, tables, garden, stock of groceries on hand, two cows, window shades and all the general equipment except his private household furnishings for $372.49. His two bills for May and June, amounting to $562.20, were allowed. Magistrate Kuykendall said that he opposed the compromise because he believed that Mr. Thompson should be permitted to serve out his term, and that the new method of operating the county almshouse would not be cheaper.

Magistrate Emery made the motion that the recommendation of the committee be adopted, and when put to a vote it carried, 6 to 2. Those voting were: Yes—Magistrates Bleich, Emery, Householder, Ross, Seltzer, Walston. Nays—Bennett and Kuykendall.

With the disposition of the wrangle over the superintendent of the county almshouse, another method of economy in the management of the institution was taken up. The almshouse is furnished with water pumped by a gasoline engine, which is unsatisfactory, and has given much trouble. The bills every month for repairs have ranged from $40 to $100 and the magistrates believe that the cost is excessive. Magistrates Emery and Kuykendall presented some figures showing the county could install a motor to pump water and furnish electric lights by using current from the Paducah Light and Power company's wires, which are within a short distance of the almshouse. It is estimated that the gasoline engine could be sold for several hundred dollars, while the entire cost of equipping the almshouse for using the current would be about $250, with the monthly cost of about $10 for current. A special committee, consisting of Magistrates Kuykendall

GOOD HUMOR IN THE FIGHTERS CAMP

ODDS SHIFT TODAY AND ARE NOW IN TO 7.

Reno, Nev., June 30.—Odds on the big fight tightened today, returning to 10 to 7 on Jeffries. There were but few takers, as there is feeling Jeffries is as strong a favorite now as he will be at the time of the fight. Jeffries' work before the picture machines last night was not so satisfactory as others have been. He started out to blow early than usual. His other work was fine and some attributed the hard breathing to a heavy wind that was blowing. He is in fine humor today and joked with his camp followers. He had his sparring partners hit him on the jaw as hard as they could. It didn't bother him. Police and medical arrangements to attend persons overcome by the heat in the arena are completed.

Johnson is keeping up his hard work, but keeps in good humor. He has been assured no harm will come to him at the hands of the spectators, but he will have a number of his own men stationed around him in his corner. Johnson is showing marvelous defense. Moving pictures will be taken of him today.

Police Court Room is Thronged With Morbid Crowd When Trial of Farrin and Dean is Called

Judge Cross is Sworn off the Bench by The Defense and Mayor Smith Selects Judge Ed Puryear.

After going through a lot of preliminaries that consumed about an hour in police court this morning, the examining trial of Tom Farrin and Guy Dean charged with the murder of the unidentified red haired boy in the woods in Littleville near the Pool road, on the night of April 9, was begun at 10 o'clock. A motion of the attorneys for the defense to examine Farrin and Dean separately was withdrawn.

At the outset the defense scored a point in detaching Police Judge Cross, on the grounds that he was familiar with the case and had formed an opinion. An affidavit was filed by Attorneys Sam Crossland and David Browling, representing Farrin and Dean, to this effect, and Mayor Smith was called and swore in Judge Ed H. Puryear as special judge.

The defense entered objections to Detectives Moore and Collins being allowed to remain in the court room, claiming that they were not officers of the court. The policemen were allowed to remain. Then the defense asked that Mr. Turner Anderson, uncle of Tom Farrin, and Wilbur F. Dean, father of Guy Dean, be permitted to remain. Commonwealth Attorneys M. E. Gilbert and Thomas Lovett objected, and after a lengthy discussion they agreed that all interested parties should remain outside.

A rub was called for the separate examination of witnesses and they retired to the exterior of the courtroom.

Detective T. J. Moore was the first witness examined and Miss Polly Durrett, deputy county clerk, who took down Farrin's confession, was the second. It was during her examination that the defense raised the contention that Farrin's confession was not voluntary, but made by promise or in hopes of getting out of the trouble, by being made a state witness. Miss Durrett was asked the substance of Farrin's confession, but this was not permitted for the reason that the court was not sufficiently advised as to whether the confession was a forced one. It was agreed that at the time of the confession no promises were made to Farrin. It is said that promises were made prior to that time, and Attorney Crossland read several cases of law covering this point in support of his claim that the confession should not be competent evidence and used against Farrin. Commonwealth Attorney Lovett took issue with Attorney Crossland, and after a lengthy argument it was found that all of the arguments were unnecessary and the examination was continued.

Detective Moore said that, after receiving information that Tom Farrin would visit Lula Shelton at Mrs. Annie Redman's, 1926 Kentucky avenue, on the night of June 10, and after confiding with Lula Shelton, he went to her room and concealed himself behind the wardrobe. He said after a short time, Lula and Tommie came into the room and began talking about other matters, before they touched upon the murder. This consumed about an hour and a half. Lula asked Tommie who the dead man was, and Tommie told her not to mention that to him any more. She kept repeating her question, and at the fifth question Tommie used an oath, saying: "If you care anything about me you won't mention that again." Tommie then pulled off his coat and shoes and reclined on the bed. He had his back turned to Lula and after a time she said: "Tommie, what are you crying about?" Tommie told her he would stop crying if she would never mention the dead man to him and she agreed. Mr. Moore said Lula took the oath with Farrin that she would never tell anyone. Mr. Moore said, upon cross-examination, that he saw the dead man at Nance & Rogers, he said he never took any interest in the case until some time after the murder, but admitted that he had trapped Farrin into a confession to Lula Shelton at Mrs. Redman's house.

Miss Polly Durrett was the second witness examined and said that at the time Farrin made his confession, Detective Collins, Deputy Jailor Charles Whittemore and Turner Anderson, uncle of Farrin, were present. She said no promises were made to Farrin at that time, that she knew of. She was allowed to go, after the controversy between the attorneys for the commonwealth and defense as to Farrin being induced to swear

SPEIGHT WILL BE TAKEN CARE OF

WHETHER HE LANDS THE ATTORNEYSHIP OR NOT.

Washington, June 30.—Should either J. C. Speight, of Mayfield, or George Du Relle be appointed to the next term as district attorney at Louisville, the disappointed candidate is certain to land on his feet. Arrangements have, in fact, already been made to take care of Speight if he loses, and the possibility is that a place will be found for him in western Kentucky, perhaps in his home town.

If the president is forced to name Speight and oust his friend Du Relle, reports here are that the Louisville man may be named for a place on the new commerce court of appeals to be selected next December.

Senator William O. Bradley left at 2 o'clock today for a short rest before returning to his law office at Louisville. He was escorted by several trunks and baggage boxes and the best wishes of all who have met him since the senator came to Washington to help make the nation's laws.

J. M. Chilton, secretary of the senator, will leave for Louisville by a circuitous pleasure route tomorrow. When he reaches Louisville he will look into the representations of several Republican leaders who want him to be sacrificed to Representative Swager Sherley in the fall congressional campaign.

Citizens of the District of Columbia regard the white house rumor that a negro, and probably a Kentucky one, is to be appointed collector of the Port of Georgetown, D. C., as a "foolery." That is, they assume that the president had the intimation spread to see how the white people of the district would accept it.

He was rewarded with a burst of indignation, and it is generally felt here that Albert S. White, of Louisville, or Henry W. Rucker, of Georgia, the negroes mentioned, will not be named. Under the Georgetown collector fourteen white men and the great majority of citizens of Georgetown are members of old southern families. The district itself has a black population of 150,000.

Politicians here believe that when the president learns that the district condemns the plan to name a negro, he will declare that there is no foundation in the report and proceed to name a white man. Albert S. White, a Louisville negro lawyer, would have an excellent chance to be appointed if a negro collector were determined upon.

THE L. & N.

KEYS THE COTTON BELT RAILROAD, SOUTHWESTERN LINE.

St. Louis, June 23.—A deal by which the Louisville & Nashville railroad is to obtain control and practical ownership of the St. Louis Southwestern railroad, known as the Cotton Belt route, which has been pending for 90 days and is expected to be consummated within the next 20 days became known here today.

The control of the Cotton Belt, it is reported, will pass to the Louisville & Nashville for a cash outlay of a little more than $1,500,000.

By the acquisition of the Louisville & Nashville will gain a short route to the West and Southwest through Memphis and St. Louis.

MUST CONNECT WITH SEWERS

JUDGE CROSS GIVES THE DELINQUENTS FEW DAYS.

If property owners in sewer district No. 1 fail to connect their property by July 5 heavy fines will be the penalty in police court. Of the 140 notices sent out, only 90 complied a few weeks ago. This will be the last chance to connect and after July 5 those who do not connect will be liable to fines each day.

—Mr. James W. Gleaves, who is seriously ill at his home on North Seventh street, is unimproved.

The Past Six Months Have Been Very Profitable for All.

Deposits and Surplus Accounts Total Big Figures.

The Citizens Savings Bank will declare a dividend of five per cent, and deposits will approximate $700,000.

BROWNE JURY WAS FIXED, IS CLAIM

PROSECUTOR WAYMAN SAYS JURY WAS PACKED.

Chicago, June 29.—Scarcely had announcement of a mistrial in the case of Lee O'Neill Browne, charged with bribery, been made today than State's Attorney Wayman declared that the jury had been packed. Speaking to reporters, he said: "This is the most flagrant case of jury fixing I have ever seen. It would seem that these court rooms were constructed to make it easy to 'fix' the jurors, and this case is a good example. The jury was packed from the start."

"I know the name of the juror who was the kingpin of them all. It is strange that men who have been hanging about the court room day after day, almost minute after minute, should have been directed in buildings across the street from the jury room, and should walk off arm in arm with jurors who stood for acquittal."

Notwithstanding the statement of several jurors that they stood 3 to 4 for conviction throughout, Mr. Wayman declared that the jury at one time stood 11 to 1 for conviction.

The state's attorney declared that men had been signaling jurors from the windows of a hotel across the street from the windows of the criminal court building.

"I won't have those fellows around the court room again, flagging the jurors," he added. "If they attempt it in the next trial, or in any other trial, I shall have them arrested at once. One big fellow worked some of the younger fellows on the jury to his side. He was the kingpin of them all."

"One of the jurors told me that there was enough evidence introduced to convict 50 men. Those who were for acquittal declared that White was a liar, that Beckmeyer was a liar, and that there was no evidence introduced at all. Three men confessed to receiving bribes, and yet they were four men on that jury who failed to convict. A pretty state of affairs."

The jury was out 1 1/2 hours, the longest session by 4 1/2 hours ever held by a jury in Chicago. Twenty-four ballots were taken, the count, it is said, throughout standing eight for conviction against four for acquittal.

One juror who was detained for a moment by a reporter was asked if there was any fighting in the jury room.

"I should say not," he answered. "They were a jolly good bunch and we had a fine time. We all stuck to our views. The argument was warm at times, but we all recognized the rights of others to their own opinions."

Indians Broke Even.

Clarksville, Tenn., June 30.—An even break was scored yesterday afternoon in the double-header with Paducah. Clarksville took the first game 5 to 4, but proved unable to take the second and it went to the Indians by the same score as the first. Gwin was in the box for Paducah and twirled a good game, despite the fact that Lambert, Blue and Keen rapped out home runs. The Indians scored as many hits as Clarksville, but they were not touched so well and were not for extra bases.

"Dummy" Payne twirled the second game and he satisfied all Clarksville fans that he is a competent club artist, for he permitted only four safe raps, while Price, who started the first game, was touched up for seven. Overton was behind the bat, and caught two beautiful games. Manager Angermeyer, who sprained the fact that his ankle is sprained in the game, and as a result in the victory.

Is Harry Floyd, the latest addition to the Indians, twirling staff, a diamond in the rough or a "phony"? This question is agitating the fans not a little bit, and there are supporters on both sides. Some of the best posted fans say that Floyd is nothing more than a flash, and the next time he enters the box that he will be forced to seek the woods.

Others say that he will last to defeat every team in the league once, but danger will await him on the second visit. Still other fans are confident that Floyd is nothing less than a pitching marvel, and with proper coaching will develop into a mighty pitcher. Anyway the fans are watching with much interest the result of Floyd's next turn in the box, which probably will be today.

All of the fans admit that Floyd has speed to burn, and a drop that will keep the best of the slingers guessing, combined with an eye to place them any distance above the rubber.

Around the Circuit.

In mentioning the first game of the present series of the Indians with the Clarksville team, the Clarksville Leaf-Chronicle says:

"The Volunteers took the Mad-hens into camp at Greenwood park Tuesday afternoon in a neat and effective manner. Although it was a pitchers' contest, a decided improvement was noticeable in the team work of Paducah since the team played here last. Harris was in good form and received excellent support. Hoyt pitched in his usual effective manner, allowing only four hits. In addition to being an unusually fast game—one hour and fifteen minutes—it was remarkable from a number of other standpoints. For instance, it was without either a two or three base hit, a home run, a double play, a base on balls, a passed ball or a stolen base, or a single error on the part of the contestants."

Manager Ray has signed two new men of whom he is expecting great things. One is Eddy Gueser, of Louisville, a catcher and utility man, who is batting around the 300 mark. The other is Bradbury, the star infielder of the University of Virginia team. Bradbury was the fastest man on his feet in the University nine. * * * A. C. Murray, of Clarksville, has been elected president of the K. I. T. league. He succeeds Mayor Irvin Thompson, of Henderson who resigned.—Hopkinsville New Era.

In fixing the prices, we have done so with a genuine desire for clearance. Not for effect, nor for sensation; but as a time-honored policy that results in a brand new, fresh stock each season.

THURSDAY, JUNE 30.

Daily Thought.
No man knows how far he can persist until every tendon of his will has been strained to the snapping point.—Kaufman.

To some of us, it has looked for some time like our good friend Gilford Picebot, was preparing for something. He is being groomed for governor of Pennsylvania.

Covington dairymen won't furnish their patrons with pure milk, and the city government is contemplating installing a municipal milk plant. It's a good idea, too.

Ferrero, the Italian historian, and student of present day affairs, says Europe is more corrupt than the United States, and has grown callous morally. Some consolation there, there.

Jack London, the novelist, says price fighting appeals to men of blood, and is an instructive passion of the race. And lots of folk, who are denouncing such affairs as brutal,
secretly agree with Jack.

Politics will immediately assume summer heat. Ben Johnson is back from Washington, and says he shall start his campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor in a few weeks. Let's hope to the seashore.

Judge Cross has given those persons who have not yet made their sewer connections a few days of grace, but says it will be the final extension. And, he is right. Those people have had ample time to have had the work done, and prosecutions should follow all failures to conform to the law now.

Miller, a little burg in South Dakota, voted wet a few days ago, but is yet dry. The lee plant of the town is controlled by a dry adherent, and he refuses to sell his product to saloons, and as the wet goods are not good at this season unless they are properly chilled the town is quite dry.

There was an odd family reunion in Wisconsin a few days ago. The children of Mrs. Isaac Silver, of Waukegan, gathered to do honor to her memory, and a dinner was a feature of the event. The chief dish at the spread was a mince pie, made from meat which Mrs. Silver had prepared ten years ago. One could almost make a joke of that.

"Work works world wonders", says H. G. Haugan, a railroad official, in authority on a Chicago road, who is retiring after forty years of active service. And today that statement is more true than it has ever been. We see men of talent and genius who are failures, achieving and accomplishing nothing, but the man who is always at work is the one who is doing things in this day and time.

Fairbanks, according to Washington gossip, is slated for the ambassadorship to England, succeeding Whitlaw Reid, who is said to be out of favor with the new king. The former vice president is ably fitted, in every way, for the position, and his appointment would be a political thing for Taft to do. Fairbanks is now living at his old home in Indianapolis, after returning from his trip around the world.

THE NEW HEALTH OFFICER.

The board of health made a wise selection when it chose Dr. Z. C. Holland for health officer, to take the place left vacant by Dr. Sights' resignation. Dr. Sights has done splendid work, and the man following him
has something out out for him. Dr.
Holland, however, can and will do it.
He is fitted for the position by temperament and ability; he has seen much of the work Dr. Sights has done, and has been associated with him in some of it, in his capacity as a member of the board of health.
There is hardly a more important position in the city administration than that of health officer. On him devolves the responsibility for the good health of the entire community,
and at times it is an arduous task.
We bespeak for Dr. Holland a successful administration and shall always be glad to render him those many bits of assistance that fall to the lot of a newspaper.

STATE PRESS.

No State Primary Election.
It is to be hoped that the Democratic state executive committee will not call another state primary election. So far as we are concerned we have always opposed state primary elections, in fact all primary elections
except for congressional and on down.
A state primary election is too big cumbersome and expensive. Such an election destroys the ambition of so many good men, by costing them
so much money that they become prohibitive to so many good men. Of course some people criticize conventions and elections is just in many instances, done in a convention, but not better in nominating state officers than a state primary election. We hope that a state convention will be called and let every man enter the race who sees proper and let him
spend just as little or as much money
as he feels like, but not force him into a state primary election and then rob him of his money and also of his election. If he is to be robbed of his nomination, let it be done in a convention, but not force him to put up his money before he can enter the race in a primary election.—

A CARD FROM MR. HOLLAND.

To the Honorable Mayor, the Board of Health and the Citizens of Paducah:
Having been elected health officer for the city, for a term of two years, I feel that I want to ask the aid, not only of the board of health, which I know I shall have, but of every citizen of Paducah.
Let us all work together for the good of the whole people, remembering, at all times that, if men congregate in cities and towns each is to the same extent dependent upon the other, and each must be willing to make some sacrifice for the good of the other. And, in order that the whole may be healthy and happy, as God intended, we must work harmoniously.
The duties of the health officer in Paducah are arduous and poorly paid for. But, notwithstanding this,
my predecessor has done his duties
well, and the records show this result: Paducah has the lowest death rate of any city in the state. And we can maintain that reputation, if we will. Let us keep Paducah clean.
Some citizen may think, some time,
that an injustice has been done him,
or her. But, I assure you now, nothing shall be requested or asked of anyone that is not known to be for your own good, and the good of the whole city. And, now, I shall thank you in advance for the help and co-operation which I feel sure I shall receive from every thinking citizen of our beautiful city.
Respectfully,
Z. C. HOLLAND.

FREE TRANSPORTATION ENDED.

No More Carrying Fractional Silver
By U. S. Treasury Grants.

Washington, June 29.—The transportation of fractional silver and minor coins by the treasury free of charge is to be discontinued. Those wanting it hereafter will have to pay the cost of such transportation. The practice of transporting silver and minor coins in exchange for other money has been in vogue since 1881,
and Secretary MacVeagh thinks the government has been meeting the bill
long enough.

This year the treasury has sent almost $100,000 in shipments of this character from the treasury and sub-treasuries. For the new fiscal year congress made no appropriation.

WENDLING'S TRAIL

Chief Carney Orders Release of the Other Suspects.
Houston, Tex., June 29.—Chief of Detectives Carney, of Louisville, Ky.,

suspects, one at Waco and another at Galveston and promptly ordering their release, in a conference here today with Chief of Police Ellis,
He will not disclose his plans for the future.
In official circles it is the general opinion that Wendling has not been in Texas.

BOYS WANT TO SHOOT FIREWORKS

ARE AMAZED AT NEW LAW
FORBIDDING IT.

Told the Mayor That Their Mothers
Had Given Them Permission
To Do So.

LAW IS TO BE ENFORCED

"Where can we get a permit to shoot some firecrackers on the Fourth of July," said a ruddy face
youngster, as he roared into Mayor
Smith's office this morning.
"Why, you can't shoot firecrackers
at all," replied his honor.
"We can't," replied the youth, in surprise. "I saw in the papers that we could, if we got permission, and my mother has given me the permission to shoot 'em, so I thought it was all right."

"Well, I'll tell you what you do,"
said the mayor. "You put in your time on the Fourth freezing cream
for your mother; that will keep you busy."

POLICE COURT ROOM

a lie by promises that he would be made a state witness and liberated from jail. Attorney Crossland cited law records that showed that a confession gained by promises on the part of an officer, attorney or anyone not connected with the court, was incompetent evidence.

Detective James Collins was the third witness examined. He said he was present at the county jail when Farrin made his confession. He said he made no inducement to Farrin, nor knew of any that were made. He said Farrin's statement was reduced to writing and then transcribed by Miss Durrett.

The next witness to be examined
was Lula Shelton, Farrin's sweetheart, who disclosed to the detectives and police what Farrin had done. She said that she was at Dora Blackwell's house in Louisville on the night of April 9 with Dean and Farrin. The next morning Tom told her he had killed a man last night to get money to support her. He told her if she told it he would kill her.
Lula said she retired between 10 and 11 o'clock and didn't wake up until the next morning, as she was a sound sleeper. The next morning she said the ambulance came about 11 o'clock and Tom and Guy were seated on the front porch. She said Dean exclaimed: "That looks mighty bad for Shorty." "Shorty" was a nickname
for Dean, and he always called himself that. Lula said Tom told her that the next morning Guy Dean washed blood from his hands with some mud near a pool of water in front of the house and then he washed his hands in the water. She said Tom Farrin told her he knocked the red headed boy in the head with a club. Lula said the following Tuesday she went to Cairo and stayed at the home of Nanette Coffey. Dean and Farrin came to Cairo that night.
She said Dean told Tommie that they ought to go on further and if he (Tom) was a friend of his he would go with him. Tom refused, saying he was coming back to Paducah.

Lula said that Tom told her he almost gave himself away when he was taken before Judge Cross a few days after the murder. He said he had to tell three or four lies to get out of it. She said Tommie told her about Dean washing blood from his hands when he was in the county jail. She visited him there. Lula said she never saw Dean and Farrin
after the murder until she returned from Cairo. She said she was taken before Judge Cross and questioned.
At this juncture Attorney Crossland read over again the examination of Lula Shelton and she admitted every statement was true. This occupied some time.

At 12 o'clock Judge Puryear announced a recess until 1:30 o'clock when the examination of Lula was resumed.

It is expected that the examining trial will consume all of today and tomorrow on account of the large number of witnesses on hand. Commonwealth Attorney John Lovett is assisting Acting County Attorney Gilbert, in the absence of County Attorney Sanders Clay.

The court room was packed with curious spectators and the trial was interrupted on several occasions to compel the spectators to sit down.
More interest has been manifested in this case than any other ever tried in the city court this year.
Evidence at the trial is being tak-

We believed that the keeping qualities of beer sealed

To-day we positively know that

Budweiser

retains its brilliancy, effervescence and flavor better when sealed with crown caps. We know this because we have tested thousands of bottles both ways,
and these tests compel us to render a verdict in favor

more convenient to both the consumer and the trade.
Budweiser is always the same in quality no matter

—CROPS IMPROVE
FINE GROWING WEATHER IS REPORT OVER ENTIRE COUNTRY.

Washington, D. C., June 30.—Good growing weather through the country has prevailed during the last week, according to the national weekly weather bulletin of the department of agriculture.

"A general summary of the weather for the last week shows the continuation of warm and dry weather throughout the corn and winter wheat growing states," says the report. "The rainfall, though light, was sufficient for present needs, except in scattered localities, and the warm weather was beneficial to growing vegetables, which have made rapid progress under the favorable weather of the last two weeks."

"In the states of the spring wheat section some improvement is due to rains that occurred in the more southern portions of the district. The change from the high temperatures of the latter part of last week and the first of the present week gave some relief, but high temperatures again are prevailing."

"No rainfall has occurred over the northern portions, especially in North Dakota and the northern portions of Minnesota and Wisconsin. Rain in abundance is needed in nearly all portions of the district."

"Along the Atlantic coast much warmth, sunshine and drier weather continued, and satisfactory progress was made in all agricultural pursuits."

"In the cotton belt showers were of frequent occurrence, and it was slightly too cloudy and wet in some sections, but over most of the important cotton growing sections the weather was generally favorable."

"Rains occurred in the western portions of the great plains states, but it is becoming dry along the entire eastern slope of the Rocky mountains. To the west of the Rockies temperatures were favorable, but it is becoming dry on the ranges, especially in the central and southern portions, where the rainfall has been unusually deficient and much damage has resulted."

"Irrigation water is holding out well in the northern portions, but in the central and southern sections the streams are getting low. The week was free from destructive storms of any kind."

SPARTAN MOTHER OFF TO BIG FIGHT WITH SON.
Don't Want Her Boy to Be a Molluscoid.

Chicago, June 30.—Mrs. John P. Henderson, of Passaic, N. J., does not believe in rearing molluscoids. She wants men in her family, who don't faint when they see a bit of blood splattered about. Mrs. Henderson came to Chicago last night, bringing Eddie Henderson, her son, 15 years old, with her. Chicago is not her destination; it is a mere stopping place on her way to Reno, where the Jeffries-Johnson fight is to be held.

After Mrs. Henderson had registered at a downtown hotel she confided to the clerk of that hotel:

"See," said Mrs. Henderson, displaying three $50 tickets to the ringside; "I'm going to take my boy to see that fight. I do not believe in bringing up molluscoids. At Denver my sister, Mrs. Henry Short, will join me."

NOTES OF SERVICE LAW VALID.
Constitutionally Upheld in Test Case by Federal Court.

Washington, June 30.—Announcement was made by the Interstate commerce commission that United States Judge Page Morris, holding court in Iowa, had decided that the federal law regulating the hours of service of train crews on interstate railroads was constitutional. The attorneys for the defendant—the Illinois Central railroad—attacked the constitutionality of the law on thirteen different grounds. Their principal reliance, however, was upon the decision of the United States supreme court in the employers' liability cases.

WOMAN IMMIGRANT IS HELD IN $50,000 BANK ROBBERY.
New York, June 30.—A handsome young Roumanian woman, who gives the name of Marcelle Webber, is held a prisoner at Ellis island as an accomplice of Paul Webber, a clerk, who is charged with looting a German bank at Cairo, Egypt, of $50,000 not long ago.

Nearly $37,000 of the money was found under a mattress in the woman's room in Brooklyn today. Webber has disappeared and she refuses to give a clue to his whereabouts.

The pair arrived here on the liner Graf Waldersee on June 16, but, although the German consul had furnished the immigration officers a description of Webber, they passed inspection safely and were swallowed up in the city until traced to a Brooklyn boarding house.

RAILROAD NOTES.

By a slight break on the locomotive the eastern mail was delayed in arriving in Paducah this morning for several hours. Shortly after leaving Louisville last night the engine attached to fast passenger train No. 103 was derailed and it was necessary to secure a freight locomotive at Central City. The train arrived in Paducah at 6:30 o'clock and proceeded south.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat says: "A second public hearing to consider plans for the proposed bridge over the Ohio river at Metropolis, Ill., to be built by the Paducah and Illinois Railroad company will be held July 26 at 10 o'clock in the morning in the United States engineer office, 1301 Liggett building, St. Louis. Maps of the locality and plans of the proposed bridge are now and will remain on exhibition until the time of the hearing. All persons interested may examine them and appear at the hearing and present any pertinent facts. Lieut. Col. J. G. Warren, corps of engineers, United States army, is the senior member of the board."

A. H. Egan, superintendent of the Louisville division, passed through Paducah last night en route to Memphis to attend an expense meeting.

Think of Last Summer—

does away with all drudgery of cooking. Why should you be a slave to a coal range when you can have an Oil Cook-Stove that is cheaper than coal, cleaner than coal, doesn't "smell," doesn't smoke, lights instantly, can be put out instantly, leaves no ashes, and doesn't heat the kitchen. With one of these stoves you can boil, bake or roast the most elaborate dinner. You can change from a slow to a quick fire, or the other way about, by simply turning a wick. Apply a match, and instantly the heat from an intense blue flame shoots upward through the turquoise-blue enamel chimneys to the bottom of pot, kettle or oven—but nowhere else. The stove has every convenience that can be thought of: Cabinet Top with shelf for keeping food and dishes hot, drop shelves to hold coffee or teapots, towel rack; in fact every convenience possible.

The nicest finish, with the bright blue of the chimneys, makes the stove ornamental and attractive.

Bootblack and Barber Discuss The Prize Fight.

(By Richard Henry Little.)

Cal was plainly much distressed as he dabbed his brush in the blacking and made ready to apply one of his patent indestructible shins. It was evident that some great secret sorrow was preying on his mind. On such occasions it is well to let him alone. After a number of loose and irrelevant remarks Cal usually swings around to the great subject that is troubling him.

"Ah don't see how you all get them yer shoes so dirty," observed Cal. "Peaks lak to me you des sit down befo' you come in head an' Jess natchurally dab rund at o'vah dem shoes. Clare to gracious Ah des' get to get mo' money foh shuin' em."

"Cal's cross this morning," observed the barber, "Guess he lost his rabbit's foot."

This highly original reply from the barber usually provoked a grin from Cal, but on this occasion he only scowled. "Nevah had no rabbit's foot," said Cal. "If Ah had had a rabbit's foot Ah wouldn't a cum to this yer shop to work."

"Cheer up, Cal," said the barber. "If he can keep away from that punch long enough, he'll wear the big follow out and have a chance."

"Whaffor you talking about that ole prize fite," said Cal. "I got somethin' else to do then to sit aroun' and think about a prize fite. I don't got to pay a bill attention to no noma an' de ladies and Ah dun got to pay de rent and Ah dun't got no time to waste a talkin about a prize fite."

"What's the difference, Cal, between an animal and a human being," said the barber, resolved to enlighten Cal with one of his very merriest quips.

Cal shined on in silence. "Why, Cal," said the barber, chuckling so hard he fogged the shears into the back of the neck of the victim who was getting a hair cut. "A human being laughs."

"Ah knows dat," said Cal. "Ah dun heah yo spring dat joke de first time Ah cum in his shop, an' dat was two years ago, an' Ah dun heah yo tell hit aboot foh times every day since. A h git taid dat foolishness."

The barber relaxed into silence and Cal dabbed steadily on the shoe in front of him.

"An' ennyhow," spoke up Cal suddenly, "I'll Ahtha get Jess a good punch as dat Jeffries."

"What J. Jeffries is that Cal," asked the barber. "You don't mean that red whiskered conductor on the Illinois Central?"

"No," replied Cal, brushing energetically. "Ah don't mean no red whiskered conductor man. V'all know who Ah mean. Ah mean Misah Jeffries, Misah James Jeffries, de gentleman what am now at Reno Nevada, dat who who mean?"

"What's he doing out there," asked the man in the chair. "Getting a divorce?"

"No he hain't a getting no divorce," replied Cal. "Do on'ly Jawn he'll be de' will be to get an injunctashun agin' Lill Ahtha Johnson on de charge of 'salt and battery. Dat's wat."

"Thought you didn't pass any attention to prize fights," said the barber.

"Ah hain't payin' no attention to prize fites," said Cal. "But Ah des want to see dat Jack Johnson git a square deal. Dat's all he wants. Des a square deal."

"Don't you worry about that square deal business, Cal," said the barber. "Why, the ole thing is fixed. Johnson will let himself be flogged so as to make a hundred thousand dollars out of the million pictures. Yess those pictures couldn't be shown down south at all if Johnson won, and nobody would take much interest in them up north either. So Johnson is going to lay down after ten or twelve rounds. You see?"

"You don't know nothing about hit," said Cal. "Lill Ahtha hain't a goin' to lay down, no such thing. Cause why? Ef he wins dat fite he'll be de biggest colored man in de whole United States, but a nigger hain't got no chance at all. He hain't be a better politician or a better nothin' den a white man except dem one thing. Mebbe he kin be a better prize fiter. Dat's de one place where hits a straight show down between de white man and de colid man. Misah Johnson due know dat. Dere hain't no mones in de world dat's a goin' to keep him from whappin' dat Misah Jeffries."

"Tut, tut, Cal," said the barber. "Don't fool yourself. Anybody nowadays will do what you want if you hand him enough. Look at the legislature. If you can buy the legislature, don't you suppose you can buy up a prize fighter?"

"Ah don't know nothin' about dat legislature," said Cal. "Ah don't know whoder dey did, an' I don't know whoder dey didn't. Ah know dis: Heah's all de colid people in de Nuxted States a waitin' dat Misah Johnson to whup dat Misah Jeffries. An' nen if he do whup 'im Misah Johnson will be des de biggest man in de worl'. Dar hain't no man n' goin' to lay down when he's got dat to fite for. No stree."

"Oh, the colored people don't care much whether Johnson whips Jeffries or not," said the barber. "There's a few sports among 'em that are interested, that's all."

"Well, Ah hain't no sports," said Cal, earnestly. "An' Ah want him to win de fite. An' my old daddy's what goes to church every Sunday, he hain't no sports. He's agin' prize fite, an' he des wants everybody to love everybody else, but he said de odder nite when he was a pray-lug: An' stop dese prize fites and don't let mon noman each other or hate each other any moah. An' he say to carry de conviction to de heart of dese men dat are a goin' to fite to des stop hit net to carry de conviction to de min' of de governor of de state to stop de fite, but he say, howmmevab, if de fite do come off, den he save for de lawd please to let Brudder Johnson des natchurally knock de foh hind right off dat Brudder Jeffries. Dat's wat he said. An' dat's de way we feels about hit, whether we is sports or not."

"Well, anyhow, Cal," said the barber, "don't you bet any money on it."

SEN. DANIELS OF VIRGINIA, DIED YESTERDAY.

For More than Thirty Years Favorite Son of Old Dominion.

Lynchburg, Va., June 30.—John W. Daniels, senator, United States senator from Virginia, and for more than thirty years Virginia's favorite son, died at Lynchburg at 10:25 o'clock last night, his death being due to a recurrence of paralysis. The immediate cause of his death was a cerebral hemorrhage, announced at noon in the right portion of his brain involving the right side. This was in addition to the paralysis of the left side which was sustained last winter while in Florida for his health.

The Conservation of Nature's Resources
Applies as well to our physical state as to material things. C. J. Lindberg, Washington, D. C., realized his condition, and took warning before it was too late. He says: "I suffered severely from kidney trouble, the disease being hereditary in our family. I have taken four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy, and now consider myself thoroughly cured. This should be a warning to all not to neglect taking Foley's Kidney Remedy until it is too late."—Gilbert's Drug Store.

Looking at the queer time for haberdashery, says the New York Evening Telegraph, it's strange that so smart tozzery shop thought to market a camel brand of shirt with a dissected tail.

SCARED INTO SOUND HEALTH
Mr. H. E. Kipley, Springfield, Ill., writes: "A year ago I began to be troubled with my kidneys and bladder, which grew worse until I became alarmed at my condition. I suffered also with dull heavy headaches and the action of my bladder was annoying and painful. I read of Foley's Kidney Pills and after taking them a few weeks the headaches left me, the action of my bladder was again normal, and I was free of all distress."—Gilbert's Drug Store.

"What did your wife say when you stayed out so late last night?" "I don't know. She hasn't finished telling it all to me yet."—Detroit Free Press.

SOUR STOMACH

"I used Cascarets and feel like a new man. I have been a sufferer from dyspepsia and sour stomach for the last two years. I have been taking medicine and other drugs, but could find no relief only for a short time. I will recommend Cascarets to my friends as the only thing for indigestion and sour stomach and to keep the bowels in good condition. They are very nice to eat."

KENTUCKIANS GET HARVARD DEGREE

WILLSON PROMINENT ATTENDANT UPON COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

Cambridge, Mass., June 30.—Harvard's commencement exercises, held in Sanders theater, were made especially brilliant by the presence of a group of prominent men who received honor degrees from the university. Among them were ex-President Roosevelt, Governor Hughes and J. Pierpont Morgan. Following are the degrees conferred upon Kentucky students: Master of Arts, Arndt M. Stickle, Bowling Green; Bachelor of Laws, Henry S. Breckinridge, Lexington, and Stephen P. White, Cudiz.

Governor Willson, of Kentucky, was a special guest of honor in the commencement march to Sanders theater and occupied a prominent seat near the platform. He wore the honorary academic robe of Harvard, having himself received the honor degree last year. Governor Willson came to Cambridge especially for the Harvard law school reunion, at which Attorney General Wickensham was special guest and principal speaker. Governor Willson was a speaker at the dinner at Harvard union, following the oration. This dinner was attended by the most prominent legal lights of America.

MOBILE SKIRT NEW FAVORITE.

Americans, Chief Users of Skimpy Garment, Adding to Slights of Paris.

New York, June 30.—Mrs. James A. Stevenson, a society woman of this city, who arrived today on the Kaiser Wilhelm II., said that, although the hobbie skirt is a Parisian creation, American women are the chief users of it in the French capital.

"Persons on this side of the water," said Mrs. Stevenson, "have not seen the hobbie skirt in all its glory. Where the ordinary garment is four yards wide this is but one. The result is that women can scarcely walk and when they alight from carriages must lift the skirt above the knee."

"This style is much favored by the maids and matrons of the United States. The display of femine charm as a result of the hobbie skirt style has added laurels to the name of Paris, already famous for such things."

RHEUMATICS CAN DANCE

Elderly persons and others who suffer from rheumatism, sore, stiff and swollen limbs and muscles find they are soon able to move about and even dance after taking a few doses of the new Harkola Globes treatment, which is having such a remarkable sale of late.

The remedy is a new one, but druggists declare it has met with phenomenal success and that they have never seen a medicine which gives such universal satisfaction. A positive guarantee to refund the money if the medicine fails to give relief, is being given with every box purchased of Gilbert's Drug Store.
